

I Sing Because I'm Happy

finding your voice with Johnny Steiner and the Great American Songbook

Johnny Steiner (class of 1996) has been a full-time, working musician since the day he graduated Otterbein 25 years ago. In this positive and uplifting class, you will be inspired to find your own voice - both speaking and singing - regardless of your prior musical or public speaking experience. Each session, Johnny will explore a different topic and highlight some well-known songs of a celebrated popular composer. A self-described 'musician, fitness-enthusiast, and positivist,' Johnny Steiner's I Sing Because I'm Happy is not to be missed!

day #1: "Voice 101" / Richard Rodgers day #2: "Presentation, Posture, and Body Language" / George Gershwin day #3: "Striving For Excellence, Not Perfection" / Cole Porter

Would you like to sing with more confidence?

Do you shudder at the sound of your own voice?

Are you ever frightened to speak in front of groups?

Want to sing better in your church choir?

Do people ever tell you to 'speak up?'

Just what does your natural voice sound like?

Do you enjoy those Great American standards - the music of Sinatra, Tony Bennett, or Michael Bublé?
